Miss Stella Herring and Miss Minnie Ritter, of Massillon, are visiting Miss Dottie Ewing, 433 Seneca avenue,—Alliance Review.

J. R. Thomas, known to every grocery house in this vicinity as a prominent cheese salesman, died Friday night in Youngstown, O.

Seats have been reserved for a party of twenty from Cleveland, and a party of thirty from Canton, for the Sternberg recital, Wedneseay evening.

Peter Wilhelm, of Massillon, is the guest of Wooster relatives...Mrs. Geo. Lieberman, of Massillon, is the guest of Wooster relatives.—Wooster Republican.

Mrs. Mary Wagner, her daughter, Mrs. Ritter, and son, Eddie Wagner, attended the first communion services of a class in St. Peter's Catholic church, Canton, yesterday.

Thus far only three pupils have been entered for the Charity Rotch school. The institution when full has accomodations for thirty, though not more than twelve will be taken for the first year.

The ladies of the Christian church will serve supper in the Sunday school rooms of their new church, corner of East and Oak streets, Tuesday evening, March 10, from 4:30 until 8. Warm biscuits, maple syrup, meats and coffee.

A. J. Paul had a narrow escape this morning, while driving on the West Side. The kingbolt of his wagon broke and the horse started to run. A firm grasp on the reins, which did not relax after the fall, prevented trouble.

John Marx, a well known resident of the city, died Sunday afternoon at his home in Elizabeth street, the fourth ward, after a week's sickness from la grippe. He leaves a widow and six small children. The deceased was a son-in-law of Bernard Pauly. Funeral Tuesday morning from St. Mary's church.

On Saturday night somebody destroyed one of the goals on the high school campus, belonging to the high school foot ball association. Strong suspicions rest on several persons. The case is being investigated, and the miscreants will very likely be made to suffer the punishment of the law, which they rightly deserve.

Engineer John W. Sharp, who was injured in the C., L. & W. collision south of the city several weeks ago, and has been confined to bed in McGrath's hotel ever since, left for New Philadelphia, his parents' home, this morning, accompanied by his wife. He has so far recovered as to be able to walk to the depot, and is looking well considering the ordeal through which he passed.

J. H. Hunt's St Bernard, Don H. will be entered in the Cleveland bench show to be held in a few weeks. Sir Bedivere, whose name and fame is better known than Don H's if his merit is no greater, is also to be there. The victory of Don H. in winning third honors at the exhibition of the Westminster club, in New York, is a remarkable tribute to his good points, inasmuch as nearly all the prizes went to the dogs entered by club members and awarded by the same Don H. was not in prime condition when sent to New York, and under favorable circumstances can make an even better showing than he did in New York.

The Rev. Asahel A. Bresee preached an excellent sermon on "Christlikeness" yesterday morning at St. Timothy's church, and at Grace chapel in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bresee are at present visiting friends in this city. The Wooster Republican of Saturday says: "The Rev. A. A. Bressee and family left at noon for Massillon and Cleveland, where they will visit relatives for a few days prior to going to Johnstown, Pa. During the three years of his rectorship the St. James church has made equal, if not greater progress than in any period of its history, extending over fifty years, and he bequeathed to his successor a flourishing parish. The departure of the Rev, Bresee and his estimable wife is a matter of sincere regret, not only among the parishoners, but among a wide circle of friends in this community."

A CAROUSE AT CASTLE KESSLER.

The Usual Riot with the Usual Happy Results.

There were stirring times in Railroad street about 11 o'clock Sunday night and also in the mayor's office less than hour later. A quartette of Canton "sports" drove over in the evening with the seemingly well defined purpose of having a little diversion, and in seeking for it after their arrival naturally drifted into Albright Kessler's notorious resort opposite the Ft. Wayne station.

Larry Steele, the hopeful son of Mrs. Kessler, was the pilot in charge of the craft, and he early expressed his determination to steer her into calm waters and confine her cruise therein at the risk of wrecking the vessell. And when a mutiny arose among the Canton voyagers the gallant pilot promptly undertook to suppress it by throwing the disturbing element overboard—into the street.

The Canton passengers feeling that they were first cabin voyagers, resisted the assumption of authority tending to restrict their pleasures, and force was met by force. About the time the physical contest was the liveliest, the officers happened around there and arrested Pilot Steele and Wm. Walker and Emmet Dine of the quartette. Charles Shively and Ed. Ware, the two remaining insurgents, escaped.

The mayor was called from his bed and disposed of the trio by fining Dine $1 and costs and ordering Steele and Walker locked up. Pending the disposition of the cases Steele, the fearless and reckless pilot, outraged the proprieties of the court of justice by undertaking to assault Policeman Ertle but he received a blow in the mouth from that officer, which effectually silenced him.

The young man Walker is the son of a well known Canton physician. The officers went to the county seat this morning with warrants for the arrest of Shively and Ware.

Larry Steele, the irrepressible, pleaded guilty this morning to the charge of disorderly conduct and was fined $5 and costs, $10.60 in all, which his mother paid. He was then charged with assault upon Officer Ertle, and, pleading guilty to that offense, was fined $25 and costs, to stand committed until paid. He will serve a term in the county jail.

The officer who went to Canton saw Walker's father, who paid the fine, and the young man was discharged. The two who escaped could not be found, but the Canton officers will arrest them.

The N. Sibila Estate.

The appraisment of the estate of the late Nicholas Sibila will soon be made under the direction of Mathias Ertle, the administrator, the deceased not having made a will. The estate is a large one, but at this time it is impossible to estimate its aggregate value. The main part of it consists of the three-story brick building in Main street, occupied by the family of the deceased and the stores of Henrich & Kohl and H. Hansen; a farm in Jackson township; several lots in North Mill street, a number of lots in Akron street owned jointly with M. Ertle; other lots in the northwestern part of the city, book accounts and personal properiy. The heirs are numerous.

The Hearst Train in Town.

The special train bearing the body of the late Senator Hearst, membears of his family, and the congressional escort committee, passed through the city yesyesterday afternoon, en route to the Pacific coast. A stop of a few minutes was made here. The train consisted of three Pullmans and a combination car. The funeral escort consists of the following senators and representatives: Senators Stanford, Pugh, Stockbridge, Vance, Faulkner, Bate, Berry, Barbour, and Sawyer; Representatives Clunie, McComas, Millikin, Geary, Sherman, Tucker Gibson, Washington, and Cutchings, with Sergeant-at-Arms Valentine in charge of the party.

BOLTS AND BARS DEFIED BY A YOUTHFUL BURGLAR.

Robert Campbell, an East Greenville Youth, Dips Early Into Crime—A Sad Case of Youthful Depravity—Insecurity of the City Prison.

An unusual and remarkable illustration of crime in youth was developed in this city Sunday —so astonishing, in fact, as to seem almost incredible. Upon information from East Greenville the marshal went out with a warrant for the arrest of a boy 14 years of age named Robert Campbell. The charge against the lad was larceny, and the proof of guilt was established by the fact that young Campbell had been caught in the store of H. D. Price & Co., in that village, at a late hour Saturday night, an entrance being effected by the boy breaking one of the windows in the rear of the building. The only property missed by the proprietors of the store was two boxes of cigars, but the supposition is that a large money haul was anticipated by the amateur burglar, as it was known that the firm received considerable of that desirable commodity that day.

When the marshal got to the home of the boy the parents declared they did not know where he was, but a search of the building found him hidden upstairs. Upon being confronted with a charge of committing the grave crime the boy declared, and persisted in the assertion, that he had a confederate in the person of a man living in the village, and whom he named, who threatened to kill him if he refused to enter the store, and had assisted him to get within the building. This part of his story, however, is not credited.

The lad's parents came to town to look after the welfare of their son, but could accomplish nothing in the way of effecting his release. After the mayor had questioned him closely the marshal was directed to place him in the city prison; and, in consideration of his diminutive appearance and the sympathy awakened for one so young (the innocent appearing lad crying pitifully and steadily while in the office) it was deemed unnecessary to lock him up in one of the cells like a hardened criminal, and he was accorded the privilege of roaming about in the large room connected with the cells.

It was about 5 o'clock last evening when he was left in the city prison crying as if his heart would break; but his grief seems to have been of short duration, for when the marshal went over a little more than an hour later with supper for his youthful prisoner the bird had flown. An investigation developed the fact that the bold boy burglar had pried off the keeper of the lock on the door opening into the stairway leading into the council chamber, operated in a similar manner on the street door at the foot of the stairway, and, only stopping on the steps long enough to exclaim, "The world is mine," disappeared in the darkness to ascertain the extent of his real estate possessions.

The Republican state convention ought to go to Cincinnati this year. Columbus should be blacklisted until the proper sort of a hall is provided.

The first colored policeman has been appointed in Brooklyn. In Cincinnati there are many colored men on the force, and they are almost uniformly superior to the white officers in physical appearance, bearing and general intelligence.

The New Yo k Recorder, a new daily paper of promising qualities, independent in tone, decides that "so far as can be judged by the test of Tuesday's municipal elections, the great Democratic plurality of nearly 100,000 votes obtained at last fall's congressional election has already vanished."

The health officer gives Massillon an annual death rate of 12 per thousand of population. The rate in New Orleans is 29 90. In St Louis it is 18 26, and in other of the principal cities it ranges between those two estimates. It is a pretty good thing to be a Massillonian, and be able to take THE INDEPENDENT and use its want column.

The gentlemen at Columbus, with whom Mr. Brice arranged the last senatorial purchase, are in a state of mental distress because detectives are said to be at the capital marking bills and planning to trap the unwary. "A great sensation is soon to be sprung in this direction," is what the Cleveland Plain Dealer's correspondent writes, and as The Plain Dealer is a reliable Democratic organ, it is probably so.

A copy of a work on the gospel among the Indians of New England, by Thomas Shepard, brought $6,760 at a New York sale, Saturday. As a general thing, books almost sure to become valuable in time are works of local history, which, though seemingly valueless at the time of publication, are certain to become rare, in consequence of limited editions, and therefore in a fair way to bring large prices in after years. People who have these local works should hold on to them.

For the ninety-ninth time they have brought to light a new county scheme, with Alliance as its proposed seat. Good. If enough people can be found who really want a new county, they ought to have it. It is nobody's business but their own. However, as the consent must be obtained not only of those supposed to wish to part but of those to be parted from, it will end probably, as always before, in talk. As a matter of sense there ought to be a county wherever there is a large town, with a tributary territory sufficient in size to furnish employment to the executive officers required. This thing of inconveniencing a lot of people against their will, for the sake of supplying statistics with big figures, and for the maintenance of an imaginary boundary line, is a fossilized notion that ought to be wiped out. When Alliance gets a new county we'll have one here, too.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette in its issue of Saturday publish a most useful article on brick pavements. The whole tenor of the article is in favor of brick on the ground of its cheapness, durability and excellence. Nothing in the way of manufacturing seems so well assured, as the prosperity of all paving brick works for many years to come. Agitating in favor of paving with this material is going on all over this and other states, and every establishment is full of orders taken with a good margin of profit. Factories now equipped and ready to take their share of the immense business can do it and reap handsome rewards since the demand is now, and for some time will be, in excess of the supply. THE INDEPENDENT would like to see men of means of this city investigate into the matter, and consider the advisability of investing in brick works right here at home.

SIMPLY DISAPPEARED.

Singular Case Reported from the Ft. Wayne Station.

A singular case of disappearance was reported to the night operator of the Ft. Wtyne station last night. Upon the arrival of No. 96's east bound freight, due at 6 o'clock, and which was a cattle train, the conductor reported that the man who was in charge, and had been riding in the caboose had disappeared between North Lawrence and the M. & C. junction, and the only reasonable inference was that he had fallen from the train between the points named.

The conductor's statement was wired to Pittsburg and an order came from Superintendent Starr for the foreman of the section gang to take a few of his men and go carefully over the road as far as Lawrence on a hand car, the object being to find the supposed mangled remains of the lost man. The order was obeyed, but no semblance of the missing man could be found.

Nothing further was heard of the mysteri usly disappeared individual up to noon to-day; his name could not be learned, nor does anyone at the station even know where the stock was shipped from or its destination.

P. S. It is conceded that this a somewhat unsatisfactory news item.

Street Railroad Grants.

The possession of consents to the construction of an electric railway by the Canton street railroad company, from property owners residing between Canton and Massillon, has by some been construed as equivalent to a right of way, and likely to endanger the local project, which otherwise would be pushed through at once, whereas the Canton company shows no disposition in that direction. Any such impression is certainly erroneous, as the Hamilton county court of common pleas, in the case of Adam Knorr et al vs. board of affairs at Cincinnati, decided (Law Bulletin page 128) that under the revised statutes, section 2502, the consents of abutting property owners inure to the benefit of the lowest bidder. The decision further says: "No discretion is veiled in them (the council) to make the grant to any other than the lowest bidder."

Robert Bonner Replies.

J. S. Coxey's hope of getting a foal from the mating of his stallion Acolyte and Maud S. is doomed to disappointment. In a recent correspondence with Mr. Bonner, the owner of Maud S., Mr. Coxey offered the proprietor of the queen of the trotting turf $12,000 for the get of her and Acolyte. Following is Mr. Bonner's reply, as published in the Pittsburg Times:

NEW YORK, March 3, 1891.

J. S. COXEY—Dear Sir: I am much obliged to you for your offer, but I have several stallions at my farm that are as well bred as any others in the country, and I intend to breed Maud S to one of them. If I should succeed in having a foal out of Maud S nothing could induce me to part with it. Yours truly,
ROBERT BONNER.

Local Cocking Main.

The weekly cocking main took place yesterday in the West Side, between two birds, pitted against each other at ten dollars a side. The younger won in seven minutes.

Will Not be a Candidate

MR. EDITOR;—Having heard my name mentioned at different times as a candidate for marshal, to set the matter at rest, I have concluded it best to say to my friends that while I fully appreciate their friendly intentions, I see no good reason why I should contest the nomination with Mr. Adam Wendling at this time, he being the only condidate, I believe.

I therefore wish to say that under present circumstances it would be impossible for me to become a candidate for nomination. Thanking my friends for their kind intentions,

I am, respectfully,
SHERMAN COCHRAN.

MR. HOWELLS AT HOME.

How He Regards that Memorial Hall Scheme.

Senator Howells came up from Columbus Friday night, but owing to a severe cold did not make himself conspicuous during his visit, which was concluded at 11 o'clock this morning. However, the unavoidable and unintentional seclusion of the Senator, did not prevent an INDEPENDENT representative from having a pleasant, though brief, interview with him this morning.

The senator spoke of the injustice of requiring the state to maintain the free employment bureaus in certain cities, claiming that the expense for conducting them should be borne by the respective cities in which they are located; and, in that connection, thought it was an injustice for people who have never even seen a canal to be required to contribute, by the payment of taxes, to their support In his opinion, both the offices connected with the free employment bureaus and the positions on the canals are sinecures, and that both are an unjust burden on the state.

Upon being interrogated regarding the Canton memorial building project the senator said he was not aware that a bill for that purpose had been introduced into the legislature, but it was possible that one was in the keeping of Representative Monnot. In explaining his position on the scheme he said that if a bill on the subject came into the senate he would offer an amendment providing that the proposition should be submitted to a vote of the people of the county; that a three-fifths affirmative vote should be necessary to carry it, and that remonstrances against his idea of creating the law would not be entertained.

"Have you received any remonstrances against the scheme, Senator?"

"Yes; I have a number here in my satchel which were handed me since my return home, and I understand that they are being circulated in all parts of the county."

The manner in which Senator Howells proposes to treat the proposed memorial building act, although, in his opinion, it will never be presented to the legislature, is in direct harmony with his remarks made before the Massillon board of trade in reference to the city hall and other local projects.

AMUSEMENTS.

At Buchers' Wednesday Night.

The Grand opera house was densely crowded last night, every seat in the vast theatre and most of the standing room being occupied. This was the opening of the third week's engagement of Agnes Wallace Villa and her excellent company. The bill was changed, the attraction being Mr. Frank Harvey's thrilling English melodramatic success, entitled "The World Against Her." This was the first presentation of the play in this city, and its reception augers for it a week of great success. The curtain was raised at the conclusion of every act, and this was not sufficient, for those causing the demonstration were obliged step before the footlights and bow their acknowledments. Agnes Wallace Villa enacts the role of Madge Carlton, representing a loving wife and fond mother. Suspicion is attached to her on account of her holding a secret for a reckless young woman, and her husband is separated from her by divorce, her child stolen from her, and in the words of the title of the play—"The World Against Her," is strongly illustrated. Her wanderings through the slums of London and falling in with poor but honest people, is a pretty picture of human life in the midst of adversities. Throughout the whole piece the scenes and incidents are so greatly changed that it seems really surprising that so much can be embodied in one drama. As in all such plays everything turns out happily in the end, the persecuted are made contented and the villains are brought to justice.

The play is full of action; all the incidents are stirring; the language is vigorous; the character sketches are vivid, and every climax is ingeniously contrived and thoroughly effective.—Boston Herald.

I had catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly

ECHOES FROM THE SHOPS.

Note and Comment on Men and Doings at Russell Co.'s.

Jacob Myers has been down with fever about two weeks.

Louis Whitman is still confined to the house from the effects of the injuries received in the accident about two weeks ago.

Charles Rock, who has been confined to his home for a long time by a severe attack of rheumatism, has returned to work.

There is no marked change in the condition of Fred Lucker, who has now been confined to the house for about seven months.

Wm. Lantz, who has been off work several weeks with a badly injured arm, hopes to be able to return to work in a few days.

It is learned here to-day that W. C. Russell's condition is about the same as reported Saturday. All hope for his speedy recovery.

Foreman Cecil, who took suddenly sick one morning last week, is attending to his duties, though his face still bears evidence of the severity of the attack.

Bernard Portner was able to walk down to the shop Saturday with the assistance of a cane, and is so far recovered from his injuries as to be able to report for duty this morning.

Geo. Storck and Geo. Hose, employed in the paint shop at Russell & Co.'s have both been compelled by their physician to leave paint alone, and they have severed their connections with the shop.

Michael Rith, who took suddenly ill about two weeks ago with erysipelas of the head, from the effects of which he has been deranged much of the time, is reported to be improving, though he is yet bedfast.

David Umberhour, who has been so low at times during his long and serious illness that his recovery was felt by his friends to be doubtful, is now regaining his former health. He is now able to walk about, and although as yet very weak, is in good spirits, and believes he will, with proper care, soon be strong again.

It is a sad duty to record the death of Mr. John Marx, who was so suddenly taken ill last week. He died yesterday after a very brief illness. He was employed in the wood department and was a member of the Benefit Insurance Association. Mr. Marx was in the employ of Russell & Co. for twenty-one years almost continually. His name is enrolled upon the books of the wood department of 1870. He was a skilled and faithful workman and much respected. The employes of the wood department will all attend the funeral to-morrow morning.

The meeting of the mystic E. B. J. club, announced for Saturday evening, February 28, did not take place owing to other pressing engagements of members of the club. The date of the meeting was changed to last Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. Nicholas Fromholtz, when on account of the inclement weather only about half of the force of the club assembled. The meeting, however was very interesting, and the programme was not abandoned until finished even to the last detail. J. H. Williams was initiated, and entertained the club by reading an essay entitled, "How to mind your own business." Mr. Fromholtz treated the club with an essay entitled, "The dear ones absent tonight," which was warmly received. A general discussion of political economy then followed in which all present participated. The bill of fare was exceptionally fine, and highly enjoyed by those who had braved the elements to be present. The next meeting will be announced as soon as decided by the L. O. J. Messrs. Poe ond Borden were out of the city looking up fishing tackle for the coming season.

SOUTH AMERICAN AFFAIRS

INTERESTING ADVICE RECEIVED AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

Steps Being Taken to Bring the Controversy Between Venezuela and British Guiana Before Parliament—Mr. Gladstone's Administration—The Disputed Country Shows Signs of Activity.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The state department bureau of American republics has just received the following interesting advice relating to South American matters: The International Arbitration and Peace Association of Great Britain have taken active steps to bring the controversy over the boundary line of Venezula and British Guiana to the notice of parliament, with a view to compelling the British government to submit the questions at issue to arbitration. During the administration of Mr. Gladstone the latter agreed to arbitration, but before the details were arranged there was a change of government and since then Lord Salisbury has contented himself with the possession of the disputed territory and has declined all propositions to arbitrate.

Rapid Growth of the Country.

The development of the gold mines in the disputed country is very rapid and the immigration movement, especially from England, Scotland and Wales, is active. Gen. Thomas O. Osborne, formerly of Chicago and for twelve years United States minister to the Argentine Republic, received a concession from the Paraguayan government two years ago for the construction of a railway from the northern provinces of that republic to the boundary of Bolivia. The government of the republic of Colombia intends to imitate the Argentine Republic by importing teachers for the public and normal schools from the United States. The new railway between Port Limon, the Atlantic port of Costa Rica, and San Jose, the capital, is now in active operation and a concession has been granted for its extension to the shores of Lake Nicaragua, for which the line is now being surveyed.

The Great Advantage

which will be derived from the completion of this railroad may be estimated when it is known that the rate of freight upon a ton of merchandise, or coffee between Europe and Costa Rica, which by the old route was $45 will now, by the Atlantic route, amount to only $27.50. Barquisimeto is the third city of the republic, the capital of the province of Lara and has a population of 32,000. The new railways will serve as a powerful stimulant to agricultural and commercial enterprises as the products of the interior—coffee, hides, sugar, rum and other goods—have heretofore reached market only by means of cars and pack mules. On the 16th of January the Brazilian government authorized the payment of a subsidy of $486,000 to encouraged navigation upon the Amazon river during the current year. There are now 60 steamers plying on the Amazon river and its tributaries, and under the new subsidy the fleet will be very much enlarged.

FARMERS ON LEGISLATION.

The Lawrence County Alliance Demands a Reform of Taxes Before Road Laws.

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 9.—The County Farmers' alliance met in the court house here and passed a resolution demanding that the Pennsylvania legislature defeat road bill No. 153, and to oppose all the road laws until there is a revision of the tax law. The alliance also passed a resolution asking the legislature to pass a law giving to owners of private lands through which a stream of water passes the right to control all wild animals and fish found on such land and in such streams, the same as domestic animals are now controlled. The two resolutions called for a deal of discussion, but finally passed.

AGAINST THE WOMEN.

Action of the Methodist Episcopal Conference of Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—The Methodist Espiscopal conference, of Philadelphia, in session here on Saturday, by a vote of 120 to 98, decided against admitting women delegates to electoral conferences of the church.

Jeff. Davis' Portrait Given to Texas.

AUSTIN, TEX., March 9.—The state house and senate met in joint session, together with a brilliant audience of ladies and gentlemen, to witness the presentation of a portrait of Jefferson Davis to the state of Texas. It was painted by Prof. H. A. Macardle, of Washington county, Texas, who also painted Lee at the Wilderness. The Davis portrait is the gift of citizens of Washington county. The presentation speech was made by Frank Lubbock, one of the war governors of Texas, Lieutenant Governor Pendleton replying on behalf of the state.

Scurvy from Cigarette Smoking.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., March 9.—George Smith, a lad of 17 years, died at the Boys' home here of purpura, or scurvy, caused by excessive cigarette smoking and indulgence in cheap pastry.

Gobbled Another Brewery.

LIMA, March 9.—The Zimmerman brewery was purchased Saturday by an English syndicate, which paid $22,000 for it. The plant will be enlarged and greatly improved.

SHE DREW THE COLOR LINE,

But the Management Did Not Sustain Miss Desha, and She Resigned.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Miss Mary Desha, secretary of Wimodaughsis, has resigned from the organization because the board of managers would not draw the line against the admission of colored women to the educational classes. A few weeks ago a young colored woman was admitted to the typewriting class, but Miss Desha afterwards handed her back her admission money, telling her that the society could not admit negroes as social equals. The young negress complained to the board of managers, who decided that the organization could not prohibit the exclusion of negroes. Miss Desha thereupon resigned, and it is said that a number of southern women who are members of the club, contemplate following her example.

COSTLY PRAIRIE CHICKENS.

Nineteen Barrels of the Game Will Give the State Over $20,000.

ST. PAUL, MINN., March 9.—William Slaughter, a wealthy farmer of Clay county, South Dakota, has got himself into a remarkable tangle, from which it will cost him more than $20,000 to extricate himself. He was caught by the sheriff of his county and taken to Vermillion, together with nineteen barrels of prairie chickens, which he admits having killed. The penalty for violating the law is $10 for each bird, and, as he had 2,000 of the birds barrelled up, it is very easy to figure out the amount he is indebted to the state. There are no loop holes in the law, and Mr. Slaughter has goods and chattels enough to pay for his sport.

Pennington's Air Ship.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Arrangements have been completed for the construction of the large air ship by the Mt. Carmel company. The exposition building has been leased for three months. the south half of the building is being cleared and the big ship will be completed in this space. A large quantity of aluminum has been ordered from Pittsburg for the purpose. Inventor Pennington declares that within sixty days the ship will be ready for its trial flight and a few passengers will be carried on its first trip to New York. A thorough test will be made after it has been finished.

Death of Ex-Postmaster Darlington.

PITTSBURG, March 9.—Benjamin Darlington died in this city Saturday after a brief illness. "Ben" Darlington, as he was familiarly known, was one of Pittsburg's wealthiest citizens and most prominent bachelors. He was born in Pittsburg Oct. 26, 1840. Through the death of relatives he fell heir to a vast fortune. During the war he served with distinction as a member of the Ninth Pennsylvania reserves, and at the time of his death was a member of Post No. 259, G. A. R.

Brooklyn's First Colored Policeman.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A striking innovation has been made in the police department in Brooklyn. Twenty-two new patrolmen have been appointed by Commissioner Hayden, and among them was Wiley Grandon Overton, a colored undertaker. Before his assignment to active duty Overton will spend a couple of weeks in Inspector MacKellar's training school, studying the rules and regulations of the department.

Liquor Sales Forfeit the Deed.

MARTINSVILLE, IND., March 9.—The suit of Hon. Franklin Landers against Henry Orr and H. C. Sallers, of Brooklyn, this county, for possession of a valuable lot in that place, because the original deed specified that no liquor should be sold thereon, was deeided in Landers' favor. Orr loses the property and prevents the sale of liquor in Brooklyn, as the deeds to all the lots contain the prohibition clause.

Another Rebel Victory.

IQUIQUE, March 9 (via Galveston).—The congress party have gained a great victory over the government troops under the command of Colonel Pobeless, near Pozo, Almonte. All the province of Tarapaca is now under the rule of the opposition party. The fears of a second bombardment of Iquique have subsided and tranquility has been restrored in the city.

Candidates for Senator Hearst's Seat.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The election of a successor to the late Senator Hearst takes place next Tuesday. The principal candidates are ex-Congressman C. N. Felton, M. M. Estee, Maj. Bonebrake, a Los Angeles capitalist, and M. H. DeYoung. Felton seems to be in the lead.

Indians for the Regular Army.

WASHINGTON, March 9. — Secretary Proctor has issued a general order enlisting 2,000 Indians in the regular army, and in consequence of this enlistment the number of enlisted Indian scouts will be reduced without delay to 150, apportioned as follows: Dakota, 25; Platte, 25; Missouri, 25; Texas, 15; Arizona, 50, and Columbia, 10.

A Wife Disguised as a Boy.

NEW YORK, March 9.—James H. Bloomfield, of Yonkers, has been granted an absolute divorce from his wife. The testimony developed the fact that Bloomfield's wife and Thomas M. Turner, a Broadway merchant and corespondent in the case, had taken a trip together through New York, Mrs. Bloomfield being disguised as a boy.

FATAL RAILROAD WRECK.

ONE MAN BURNED TO A CINDER AND OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED.

A Broken Rail Ditched the Entire Train, the Chair Car Takes Fire and All is Consumed—The Baggage Car Piled on Top of the Tender—List of Those Seriously Hurt.

JACKSONVILLE, ILLS., March 9.—A terrible railroad wreck occurred yesterday morning on the Jacksonville Southeastern, which resulted in the total destruction of all the cars by fire, the smashing of the engine, the loss of one life outright and the serious injury of several persons. The southbound express, due here at 4 a. m., was nearing Havana when a broken rail ditched the entire train, which consisted of a baggage and express car, smoker, chair car and two sleepers. As soon as the engine struck the defective rail it careened into the ditch and the baggage car was piled on top of the tender. The baggageman by some means escaped without being seriously injured and he at once went to work rescuing the others. He found the express messenger pinned fast under a heavy box and with superhuman efforts extricated him, but the poor fellow had lost his left foot.

List of Those Caught in the Wreck.

Others who were not hurt at once went to work looking after the passengers. The chair car was set on fire by the patent heater and the flames, communicating with the sleepers, all were consumed. The body of Miss Ellen Woods, whose remains were being brought here from Chicago for burial, was consumed. Fireman James Saddle was caught in the wreck of the baggage car and tender and was burned to a cinder. Frank Birkenhead, the engineer, was found and saved, though his left arm and leg were broken. The others seriously injured are: Mrs. Martin, bruised about the head; C. L. Hedges, of Decatur, bruised and scalded; Charles Mulhoney, of Streator, badly bruised and scalded, recovery doubtful; Walter Conover, arm torn from socket and badly scalded; Frank P. Lewis, of Peoria, badly bruised and burned; John Bates, express messenger, left leg broken and otherwise bruised and burned slightly; James A. Campbell, of St. Louis, left leg badly bruised and otherwise shaken up; William P. Lowman, badly bruised and scalded. A train with surgeons was sent from this place and every effort was made for the comfort of the sufferers.

A PHYSICAL AND MENTAL WRECK.

Ex-Empress Eugenie, Once Most Beautiful Woman of Europe, Broken Down.

LONDON, March 9.—The ex-Empress Eugenie is reported to be in a very bad condition physically and little more than a wreck mentally. There is no allegation of insanity, but her unfriendly reception in Paris when she was at first mistaken for the Empress Frederick, and afterward insulted as soon as her identity became known, was a great shock to her. She has lost all traces of her former attractions and has ceased even to cover the ravages of time with cosmetics. To the better class of Frenchmen she is an object of pity, if not sympathy, but the mob seldom lose an opportunity to show its hatred.

THE CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

Another Meeting Will End the Work of the Legislative Commission.

HARRISBURG, March 9.—The legislative commission to investigate the charitable and correctional institutions of the state have met again. Three reports were presented, two relative to the house of refuge and blind asylum, of Philadelphia, and one upon the general result of their work. Another meeting will be held the coming week, when the reports will be presented to the legislature. Members of the commission said that its action has been harmonious throughout, and that the people would be fully satisfied with the result of their labors.

The Sensational Poisoning Case.

RICHLAND CENTER, WIS., March 9.—A new and decidedly interesting chapter in the sensational Mitchell-Maly-Soldoski poisoning case was opened Saturday. It is now proven beyond all doubt that Mrs. Dr. Mitchell came to her death by poisoning with strychnine and the little unfortunate Rosa Soldoski, who languishes in jail charged with poisoning Miss Ella Maly, will have another crime to answer for. Mrs. Mitchell's stomach was sent to Chicago to be analyzed, and Chemist Haines, of Rush Medical college, states that strychnine has been found.

Played "Annie Rooney" at His Grave.

EDGERTON, O., March 9.—"Little Annie Rooney" was the liveliest air played by the brass band that stood by the grave of the late Dr. Shoetly while the clods fell on the coffin at the burying ground just outside of this village. The doctor had thus stipulated in his will.

An Engineer Killed.

LIMA, O., March 9. —John Moore, passenger engineer on the Chicago and Erie railroad, was killed at Hammond. He was pulling train No. 12, and got down on the step to get off for orders. He jumped while the train was moving rapidly and slipped under the wheels.

"PEEPING TOM."

A Peculiar Discovery Made in Representative McClure's Room at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., March 9.—Representative Milton E. McClure, of Putnam county, has been occupying room 133 at the American house during the present session. A chambermaid accidentally discovered a large hole cut in the floor in room 89, which is just above Mr. McClure's room. Room 89 was occupied by a man giving the name of Maurice, who is said to be a Pinkerton detective. The publication of a statement by Special Constable Johns, who is the principal witness in the Elliott-Osborn tragedy, caused a number of Pinkerton men to leave town, but it is claimed they were not here on the tragedy case, but were spotting statesmen. The affair has created a sensation in legislative circles, but the object of the detectives is only conjecture. So far no blame rests on Mr. McClure, upon whom they were playing "Peeping Tom."

WANTS $50,000 FOR HIS WIFE.

She Eloped and on Being Refused Forgiveness Committed Suicide.

FINDLAY, O., March 9. — Recently Charles McClinton eloped with Miss Minnie Minott, the daughter of a wealthy Crawford county farmer. Three days after the marriage she returned home with her husband to seek forgiveness, which was refused, and a few hours later she committed suicide. Thursday McClinton began suit against the father of his bride to recover damages in the sum of $50,000, alleging as a cause for action that the father exercised undue influence over his daughter, resulting in her suicide, and that by her death McClinton's affections had been damaged, and his financial prospects ruined.

A BEWILDERING TASK.

IT IS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO KEEP POSTED ON SPRING FASHIONS.

Olive Harper Writes of the Great Variety in Dresses, Wraps and Other Spring Goods That Will Soon Delight the Ladies Throughout the Land.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, March 5.—It is almost enough to bewilder one to try and keep track of the new spring dresses, wraps and goods that will so soon be made up into lovely garments. Every day brings out something new that is so much prettier than the last that it is no wonder that women have to spend half their time in shopping so as to know what they really do want.

It has been a standing reproach to fashion writers that they will not look at or mention any material that does not cost at least $2 a yard, and so this letter shall be about the really pretty and durable goods that can be purchased at very moderate prices.

I give with this three cotton gowns. One is of indigo batiste, made just as it would be if of the richest goods. The waist is gathered at the middle of the back and front, and a high collar sets up at the wearer's neck. The front is laid in four deep plaits and the sides fitted over the hips, while the fullness of the demi-train is held in fan plaiting. Such gowns can be laundered, but they can also be worn a season without it by any reasonably neat person. The dressy gown on her admiring friend is of almond brown sateen, with pale pink flowers. The panel and vest are of dark brown sateen. The style of making can be judged by looking at the picture. To make a dress of this style it requires ten to eleven yards in all of sateen, percale or gingham, for all of which it is well adapted.

The pretty princesse gown is made of plain pale blue chambery, trimmed simply with three rows of narrow soutache braid. It buttons from the shoulder down, and has a close row of buttons all the way down to the bottom of the skirt. This style is suitable only for young girls or very young matrons, and it could be reproduced in cashmere or any other material, and is particularly adapted to a tailor made gown. One of the lovely new French broadcloths would be beautiful made in this style. They cost from $1.50 to $3 per yard, fifty-four inches wide. Five and a half yards of broadcloth would be sufficient for this model.

The India silks come next in cheapness and beauty. They can be purchased as low as fifty cents in good quality, and they make very dressy gowns, requiring very little trimming. The sharp little bargain hunter can watch her chances of "bargain days" and "bankrupt" sales, which latter have become very frequent lately, and can often pick up lovely India silks and Bengalines at thirty-five cents a yard even. The picture given will show a pretty style for such a gown. The skirt is quite plain, with wrinkled front draping. The waist and sleeves are plain, the only ornament being a fall of oriental lace. The wash surahs, made so popular last season, cost from 80 cents to $1 per yard, but they are certainly worth three times as much as China or India silk, besides being a yard wide.

CHINA FAILLE AND ALMOND CLOTH COSTUMES.

The fashionable color is a sort of light brown called almond, just the color of an almond shell. It combines or contrasts with almost every color known, and is found in every material. A very handsome tailor made suit of it I give here. The skirt is quite plain, with two deep box plaits in the back. The basque has a pointed belt made of mordore velvet, and lapel shoulder caps which simulate a cape. There is a very narrow border of beaver fur up the opening of the waist, and a high collar, which can also be worn down if preferred.

The secret of making a tailor gown is to have every seam pressed flat as fast as it is sewn, and the finish of every part done in the neatest possible way—every corner exact and every line perfect. It is quite possible for a neat sewer, with the aid of the patterns now obtainable, to make a stylish tailor gown.

PARNELLITES AND ANTI-PARNELLITES

A Series of Meetings Held by Both Factions—Much Enthusiasm.

LONDON, March 9.—Yesterday was a great day in Ireland. Parnellites and anti-Parnellites have held numerous meetings, attended with broken heads and other symptoms. Parnell's meeting at Newry was a grand affair in point of numbers and enthusiasm. Notwithstanding the virtual prohibition of the bishops from attendance and the bitter denunciation of Parnell by the clergy not less than 5,000 persons were present. The McCarthyites, with the aid of the priests, tried to hold a counter demonstration, but it amounted to very little. Mr. Parnell bitterly denounced the interference of the clergy and spoke hopefully of Ireland's prospects of genuine home rule. He asserted that Irishmen must depend on themselves and not on England for bringing about the accomplishment of national government of Ireland. His utterances were loudly cheered. A McCarthyite in the rear, who shouted out somewhat derogatory to Parnell and waved a copy of the bishop's pastoral, was immediately attacked. He sought safety in flight, but was pursued and captured by a party of Parnellites, who compelled him to kneel down and eat the paper on which the pastoral was printed.

Of Philadelphia Protest Against the Exhibition of Famous Artists' Works.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—A committee of ladies, "representing over 500 of the Christian women of Philadelphia," have presented to the directors of the Academy of Fine Arts a protest against the display in the academy's annual exhibition, just closing, of thirteen pictures which the committee describe as flagrantly indelicate and as constituting an offense to morality. The pictures referred to are "Arcadie" and four other nude studies by Alex. Harrison: "Water Lilies" and "Girl at Bath," by W. L. Dodge; "Painting and Poetry," "An Eclogue," "A Nymph" and "Evening," by Kenyon Cox, and "Neath Apple Boughs" and "The Brookside," by W. H. Low.

One of the Teeth of a Gigantic Primeval Animal Discovered.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., March 9.—Pius Snyder, a citizen of Tygart creek, near this city, discovered, a day or so ago, a gigantic tooth of a mammoth or some other primeval animal. The tooth is 7 inches long, 4 inches wide and 6 inches across. It is in an excellent state of preservation, the enamel and cuppings still being almost perfect. Search will be made for other remains as soon as the weather permits.

In Memory of Henry Ward Beecher.

Gov. Gordon Joins the Alliance.

ATLANTA, GA., March 9.—The announcement is just made that Gen. Gordon became a member of the Farmers' alliance. The affair has created a great deal of talk. This action, however, was predicted some time ago, it being understand that his promise to take this step was an important factor in his election.

ENDS IN MURDER.

TWO OF WHEELING'S PHYSICIANS MEET ONCE TOO OFTEN.

With Two Bullets in His Head the Victim Walks Into a Drug Store and Announces the Tragedy, Then Drops Dead—They Were Once Warm Friends—Both Men Active in Politics.

WHEELING, W. VA., March 9.—At 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Dr. George Baird, a prominent physician and ex-mayor of this city, was shot and instantly killed by Dr. George Garrison, ex-city health officer. The men are both active politicians and belonged to opposite wings of the Democratic party. There has been bad blood between them for years and a few months ago they had a violent personal encounter. They met face to face on Eleventh street. Baird, it is supposed, made an offensive remark to Garrison, and the latter drew his revolver and shot twice, sending two balls through Baird's head. The latter staggered back dead. Garrison was immediately arrested.

Origin of the Trouble.

There had existed a feud between the physicians dating from the election of Dr. Garrison as health officer, defeating Reed Bird, a son of the deceased. They had been great friends before, and since then Dr. Baird used every opportunity to revile Garrison upon his lack of education and upon his ancestry, frequently intimating a touch of color in the latter. Four months ago, Baird, who is noted for his abusive tongue, used such language to Garrison in the city hall that the latter gave him a pummeling with his fists, and was only prevented from shooting him then by friends.

A Period of Quiet Existed

until Saturday morning, when the two met on Eleventh street. Dr. Baird addressed Garrison with an oath and an epithet, whereupon the latter said: "Don't you repeat that." Baird turned away, and as he did so received two balls, one through the neck and the other through the eye. He staggered into a drug store near and died in five minutes. He sat down on a chair and said: Garrison shot me." Dr. Garrison walked down the street and told a friend what he had done and asked advice, which was that he give himself up. This he did, going to the sheriff's office. Dr. Garrison summoned Col. Arnett from Moundsville, and will say nothing. The body still lies in the store where the man died, and will not be removed until after the inquest.

POCKET FULL OF DIAMONDS.

Three Thousand Dollars' Worth of Jewels Found in Possession of a Thief.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Frank Antzem, manager of a livery stable, was arrested late last night, charged with attempting to dispose of $3,000 worth of diamonds, which he had found. A pocket full of diamonds was on his person, and he made full confession to Michael Donohue, a notary public. On February 10 last, a wealthy lady from the east, a relative of R. T. Crane, a manufacturer, was visiting in this city. She lost the jewels from her carriage somewhere in the vicinity of Blackhawk and Oak streets.

SHEARED HIS SHEEP IN FEBRUARY.

A Prominent Local Politician Arrested for Cruelty to Animals.

MEADVILLE, PA., March 9.—Gustave Bently, of Randolph township, was brought into the city and arraigned before Alderman Wenz to answer a charge of cruelty to animals, preferred by Humane Agent McKinney. Mr. Bently is the owner of a flock of 175 sheep, and had them sheared about the middle of February. He claims that he is fattening them for market, and that they are easier kept and increase in weight fast when sheared. The accused waived a hearing and was bound over to the next term of court after furnishing $300 bail.

Will Be Settled by Arbitration.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Arbitration will again be resorted to by the carpenters of Chicago before the final step is taken toward a strike. This was the feeling of the great mass meeting at Battery D yesterday afternoon. About 3,000 carpenters were in attendance. With the unanimous approval of all the carpenters present, a resolution was adopted, demanding that the question shall be settled by arbitration.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—Jim Corbett has begun training for his match in May with Peter Jackson. He is now more than twenty-five pounds over the weight at which he intends to fight, but anticipates no trouble in reducing.

Beatty Appointed.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The president has appointed James B. Beatty to be district judge of Idaho. This is the nomination which failed confirmation in the senate.

A Blessing to Humanity.

This is what N. H. Andrews, a prominent citizen of Springfield, O., says: "It affords me great pleasure to assure my friends that I have received both immediate and permanent relief of throat, bronchial and asthmatic trouble in the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy. It is certainly a good honest medicine and a blessing to humanity." The above preparation we sell on a positive guarantee; it has given better satisfaction than any other remedy we have ever sold. J. M. Schuckers, and E. S. Craig druggist, Massillon, O.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

The Book Trust Knocked Out

Some six months ago we began the publication of our reprint of the famous Encyclopædia Brittanica in 25 volumes, which we issued at $1.50 per volume. The price of the English edition always has been and still is $8 per volume, and the Scribner edition $5 per volume in the cheapest binding.

That the public appreciates so great a bargain is shown by the fact that over half a million volumes of this reprint have been sold in less than six months.

This elegant new edition we still offer at the same price, $1.50 per volume. This is the greatest bargain ever known in books.

Better still, we will deliver the set complete on small easy payments, to suit the convenience of customers.

Remember this is not an abridgement but the great Edinburg ninth edition, reproduced page for page, with important articles upon merican subjects rewritten to date by eminent American authors, and new maps, later and better than in any other edition.

We further announce that we have in preparation three volumes of "American Additions and Revisions," thoroughly suplementing the work. With these suplemental volumes you will have at small cost an Encyclopædia unapproachable in completeness; a thorough "digest of the libraries of the world," and a complete record of current progress and events.

Special Offer.—We claim that our reprint compares favorably with the high priced editions in every respect, and in respect to maps, and strength and beauty of bindings is superior to them. In order that this claim may be tested by a personal inspection we make the following proposition: We will furnish volume I at 60 cts.—a fraction of actual cost—if sent by express. Add 40 cts. postage if wanted by mail. Amount paid for volume I will be credited on price of set when ordered.

R. S. PEALE & Co.,
315-321 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

Here it is, and it fills the bill much better than anything we could say: "It gives me the greatest pleasure to write you in regard to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. During the past winter I have sold more of it than any other kind, and have yet to find any one but what was benefitted by taking it. I have never had any medicine in my store that gave such universal satisfaction." J. M. Roney, druggist, Geuda Springs, Kan. 50 cent bottles for sale by Morganthaler & Heister.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Light house.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the government lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, 4 years old. Last April she was taken down with measles, followed with a dreadful cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain; she grew worse rapidly until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold. Get you may get a free trial bottle at Z. T. Baltzly's drug store.

Crushed limestone for walks. Large or small quantities. Inquire of J. V. R. Skinner.

Mr. James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill., says: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right to-day and would insist on everyone who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." For sale by Morganthaler & Heister.

If your House is on Fire

You put water on the burning timbers, not the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect subsides. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which radically and permanently cures catarrh. It also strengthens the nerves. Be sure to get only Hoods Sarsaparilla.

In CHRONIC BRONCHITIS and CHRONIC CYSTITIS the results have been equally gratifying."

It is invaluable in the following diseases:

Wasting Diseases, Rickets, Scrofula, and General Debility.	Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Pneumonia, Asthma, Sore Throat.	Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Infantum, etc.
